Corporate Executive Board

Situation For over 25 years, the Corporate Executive Board (CEB) has been helping executives of some of the world's largest companies and non-profits solve their most urgent problems with best practices research, decision support tools, executive education and peer networking. With over 2,400 members, 75% of the Fortune 500 companies are represented in CEB's membership. The organization is now customizing these tools and resources for senior executives in mid-sized companies in marketing, finance, human resources, legal and information technology.

Solution The Design Channel has been contracted by CEB to create a positioning strategy, brand aesthetic and sales support collateral materials for the new series of leadership development programs designed for middle market companies.

> The assignment involves the development of a positioning strategy, tagline and branding approach that will be executed in a suite of corporate collateral and sales materials. "This is the first time in the organization's history that we've brought in a professional branding and marketing firm. We're confident that the Channel team will bring a fresh, yet strategically sound perspective to this important growth initiative," said Jill Baranick, Marketing Director for CEB Middle Market Services.

> TDC's BrandBuilder™ discovery process included conducting ten interviews with CEB senior executives to understand the company's perceptions of their brand. We audited their existing marketing materials to qualify messaging and visual inconsistencies. We conducted competitive brand benchmarking research to plot how their competitors and similar organizations position and brand themselves. Finally, we used ethnographic research to observe their sales executives in prospecting situations. The discovery yielded findings that were expository to CEB's unique personality traits and value proposition—leading us to a recommended positioning strategy and tagline.

ResultAfter the positioning statement and taglines were approved, we created a set ofmarketing communications collateral, templates for a series of updatable sales sheets,sales presentations and more.

At the Corporate Executive Board, Middle Market Services, we respond to the tactical and strategic needs of executives by connecting them with solutions their peers have used to solve similar challenges. Drawing on the successes of our worldwide membership of more than 800 organizations, we deliver best practices that are backed by real-world results. By identifying and providing practical, transferable tactics, strategies, and tools, we help our members save critical time and money as they address their top priorities.

Gain Insight. Work Smarter. Execute Faster.

positioning statement and tagline

o branding details

Research Modes Used:

One-on-one interviews Competitive brand benchmarking Audit of existing marketing communications Ethnographic research

"Your cases formed the foundation of our thinking about brand positioning changes. We saved a significant amount of executive time in strategy development for our new brand campaign."

Chief Marketing Officer
Global Manufacturer

sales support – program brochures

Your Top Priorities Are Our Top Priorities. The use with the advecture process were a set to the table of table into the new product development process?*

sales support – data sheet templates

o portfolio folder

